Both ecosystems are independent of each other. Sometimes we share images and knowledge, yet, we are self-sufficient and one can live without the other.

How we got those numbers

Since it's beginning, back in 2008 when we started our community, in order to register, all users had to answer a questionnaire by checking which of the key words they associate with. We have, today, gathered over 12,000 responses through our french site.*

Et dire que ces statistiques proviennent des personnes qui se sont inscrites à YogaPartout en jouant à un jeu simple: Choisissez les mots clés qui vous parlent le plus.

Nous pouvons partager les 39 choix de réponses pour les personnes qui souhaitent en apprendre davantage.

What if we were yesterday

We found, while building this portal a page that is dated 2014. Bizarre since we say out-loud that we launched this community in 2008. If you speak french or wish to visit our alter ego, just 'go to this page'

Unfortunately, the registration system with the game is currently closed due to an abnormal number of false registrations. We wish to re-establish the questionnaire soon. Having said that, since we're opened in every sense of the way, it is possible to share screen with you so that you can validate our statements by yourself by writing to: daniel at satoshi.yoga

In closing

Since the usual registration system is closed, here bellow is an alternative
